PRESENTATION

Mr. Murray thanked the club for having him today. He is very proud to be Principal at IRHS. He thanked our club for our participation with the LEO appreciation party and praised the advisor, Abi Buchler for her continued help with the LEO's.

The school received the Silver Award for this year. The schools motto is: Preparing Responsive Individuals Dedicated to Excellence (PRIDE). IRHS has many opportunities for the youth who are planning to attend college. It has many students going to very diverse colleges.

A student may earn college credits while attending high school. There are eleven courses available. Students can have a 3-4-or 5 score. Right now 67% of IR students qualify for AP scores.

Other areas are: Career and Technical Education, consisting of: Business, Agriculture, Teck Education, Health Professions and Teck Preparation Certification.

It is estimated the school district will have 11,953 students by the year 2020. Therefore, a new elementary school may be built around Ingrams Pond area, another middle school, North of Millsboro, more rooms added to Sussex Central, expanding Phillip Showell, repairs to Lord Baltimore and expanding Selbyville Middle School.

There are 92.1% graduates from our school district. Most of these students have an average of 4.0 and up. With organizations like the Lions Clubs giving scholarships, the future will be great for these young people.

Mr. Murray closed with another thank you from himself and Dr. Susan Bunting to our club for the scholarships we are awarding.

VIDEO

We watched a brief video of the LEO appreciation party, with pictures taken by Lion Dick Waughtal.

SCHOLARSHIPS

There were thirteen applicants. The committee met last Wednesday to interview them. These applicants were extraordinary. The committee realized the money proposed was not adequate. Four of the committee gave more money in an attempt to bridge the gap. Another $3,000 was needed. The committee asked the membership to consider giving the $3,000 to properly recognize the achievements of these applicants. Jean Bertram motioned to give the $3,000 needed seconded by Luke Martin, the motion carried.
